

Recently I've become aware of an anti-Kerry documentary that Sinclair Broadcasting plans to air prior to the election. This decision only further underscores the tremendous potential for abuse by media consolidation.

Sinclair is obligated by law to serve the public interest, but instead has moved to suffocate democracy. I am appalled! The predicted dangers of large companies controlling the airwaves have all come to light. Our democracy is far more precious and important than any bottom line. Big Media should seek to find ways to fairly inform about real issues that affect our lives.

In closing, Sinclair's decision to air the anti-Kerry "documentary" is a perfect example of why we need to strengthen media ownership rules, not weaken them. Thank you.
